Hurricanes and Tornadoes

There's only one way you can prevent life altering events from damaging your home.

What if you could really have a home built that would protect itself and your family?

We build homes that cannot be structurally damaged by hurricanes, tornados, fires, floods, termites, mold and mildew.

We manufacture bricks that can withstand hurricane and tomado force winds up to 240 mph with no structural damage.

A home that will not catch fire on the interior or exterior of the home.

Your home will not support the growth of mold and mildew, so your health will not be put at risk due to inhaling mold molecules.

Your new home will be impervious to termite and insect damage since we've removed the food source termites eat.

There is no building product on earth that has more insulating power and is "Greener" than our bricks.
